

Dr. Kyle Werth attended the University of Kansas in Lawrence, where he received his bachelor's degree before continuing on to the University of Kansas School of Medicine to complete his doctor of medicine. Dr. Werth completed his diagnostic radiology residency at the University of Kansas Medical Center before moving and concluding his fellowship training at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

Dr. Werth's professional areas of interest include stroke and head/neck imaging as well as emergency radiology.

In his free time, Dr. Werth enjoys spending time with his wife and young daughter. He also loves traveling, exercising, and following the Kansas Jayhawks and Kansas City sports teams. Dr. Werth and his family are looking forward to exploring the outdoor opportunities Colorado has to offer.
