

Dr. Luke Byers is a Colorado native who grew up in Longmont. He completed his bachelor's degree from Colorado State University in Fort Collins. He continued his education at Touro University Nevada College of Osteopathic Medicine in Henderson where he obtained his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree. Dr. Byers then returned to Colorado to complete his postgraduate training at the University of Colorado-Anschutz Medical Campus, completing his Integrated Residency program in Diagnostic and Interventional Radiology

Dr. Byers enjoys the diversity that interventional radiology encompasses and also takes professional interest in quality/process improvement as well as technology integration.

In his free time, Dr. Byers enjoys learning about technology as well as tinkering/gadgets, woodworking, and all types of board games. Dr. Byers and his long-term girlfriend are excited to be back in Colorado and close to his hometown where his family still lives and runs a small business.
